COL. ROOSEVELT IS READY TO BREAK INTO WAR GAME.

TO ASK TAFT'S PERMISSION TO LEAD HIS ROUGH RIDERS.

SAYS HE HAS BEEN TOLD THERE ARE MANY JAPS IN MEXICO AND THAT THE SITUATION IS SERIOUS.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 18.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt has admitted to friends here that the Japanese menace on the western coast of Mexico is serious and has told the old Rough Riders that in the event of war he will ask permission of President Taft to organize a division and recruit it in the southwest.

The whole west coast of Mexico, Roosevelt has been told, is lined with Japanese and it is declared the reason for the mobilization of the regular army on the border is because the state department has been informed of a league between President Diaz and the Mikado of Japan, by which Japan, in exchange for coaling stations in Mexico would aid the Mexican government in suppressing the revolution.

Insurgents Defeated—

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 18.—The Mexican Insurrectos were defeated in a battle near Trepate by the Federalists. The Rebels fled, leaving General Rodriguez and many others dead on the battle field.

Ready for Invasion—

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 18.—General Carter, in command of this army division, is today in readiness for actual warfare.

The reports from Mexico show the situation is rapidly growing worse. Bloody battles have been fought at Saltillo, Morelos, Durango and various points in Coahuila and Tamaulipas. The Insurrectos have been successful in a majority of the battles.

Private advices state that sympathizers with the revolution recently made an attack on the palace of President Diaz, shouting "Viva Madero," and showered the building with stones. Several arrests were made immediately following the attack.

Soldiers to Philippines—

WASHINGTON, March 18.—It is reported today that the garrisons in the Hawaiian and Philippine islands will be reinforced by 12,000 cavalry and artillery within the next three months. The Second Infantry has been ordered to San Francisco to embark for Honolulu.

No Break is Expected—

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, March 18.—United States Ambassador Wilson returned today from a flying visit to the United States. The ambassador declares his belief that tranquility will soon be restored in Mexico and he expects no break in the cordial relations between Mexico and the United States.

Guarantee Suspended—

WASHINGTON, March 18.—American Consul Deering at Mexico City telegraphed the state department today that the constitutional guarantee was suspended throughout Mexico today. Consul Freeman at Durango also telegraphed that the plant of the American Smelter company at Torreon will be closed shortly throwing 8,000 men out of employment, as a result of the progress of the insurrection.

FLORENCE GITTENS IS IN LEAD.

FOR THE DIAMOND RING;
SPECIAL PRIZE OFFERED.

MARJORIE ROTZIEN STILL LEADS FOR THE GRAND PRIZE
AND ALL OTHER CONTESTANTS ARE WORKING HARD.

During the past week the friends of Miss Florence Gittens have bravely rallied to her support, and so far Miss Gittens has secured the most votes in the race for the beautiful diamond ring which is offered by L. H. Rowe & Co. to the contestant who secures the most votes between March 9 and April 6.

During the week ending Thursday, March 16, 90,000 votes were cast for Miss Gittens which places her ahead in the race for the diamond ring.

In this special diamond ring contest only votes secured between March 9 and April 6 are to be allowed.

Miss Marjorie Rotzien secured 85,000 votes during the past week, which places her at the head of the list and second in the race for the diamond ring.

Miss Roberta Hobbs secured 80,000 votes during the week, making her third in the diamond ring contest.

Miss Holt McCorkle occupies second place this week in the fight for the grand prize, very close behind Miss Rotzien, who only has a small lead of 8,150 votes.

The following is the standing of contestants up to Thursday, March 16:

Marjorie Rotzien	1,029,925
Holt McCorkle	1,021,075
Florence Gittens	1,012,000
Roberta Hobbs	1,005,000
Mena Pollitz	1,002,085
Margaret Brokaw	943,000
Pauline Garrison	935,000
Grace Burdick	910,300
Violet Middleton	890,000

The following is the amount of votes cast for the different contestants between March 9 and March 16, and is a correct standing of all contestants in the race for the beautiful diamond ring so generously offered by L. H. Rowe & Co., the well-known jewelers, for the contestant securing the most votes between March 9 and April 6.

Miss Florence Gittens	90,000
Marjorie Rotzien	85,000
Mena Pollitz	80,000
Margaret Brokaw	80,000
Roberta Hobbs	75,000
Grace Burdick	70,000
Violet Middleton	60,000
Holt McCorkle	40,000

COLORED SINGERS COMING TO THEATER NEXT MONDAY.

The next attraction at the new Daytona theater will be the entertainment Monday evening by the Florida Academy Jubilee Singers, with an excellent program of songs and dialect readings, the songs to include many of the old time plantation melodies. The jubilee singers will be accompanied by Sidney Woodward, the distinguished tenor, and the members of the company include one of the best quartets on the road. This is the fifth annual tour of the jubilee singers.

PRESIDENT TO SUBMIT NEW TREATY.

AGREEMENT WITH ENGLAND WILL GO BEFORE SENATE.

TREATY IS MOST SWEEPING AND IS ADVANCED STEP TOWARD GUARANTEEING PERMANENT
PEACE.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 18.—It was announced today that President Taft will submit the arbitration treaty just negotiated with Great Britain to the senate during the extra session of congress and urge that it be ratified.

The treaty is the most sweeping which has ever existed between two countries and is an advanced step toward guaranteeing permanent peace. Under its provisions, all questions of dispute of whatever nature will be submitted to arbitration and will be passed upon by the arbitrators.

The president played golf this morning and this afternoon received a committee from the Alabama legislature and watched a ball game.

TAXING AUTOMOBILES FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

THIS METHOD OF OBTAINING
FUNDS FOR ROAD PURPOSES
IS BEING USED ELSEWHERE
—SHOULD BE ADOPTED HERE.

A resident of this city recently called attention to an item in a Canadian paper, stating that the Ontario Motor League had offered to raise a voluntary annual tax of 50c per horsepower per automobile and put the amount in the hands of the Ontario government for use in maintaining good roads.

If the people of Canada are willing to thus voluntarily tax themselves for the benefit of having good roads it is not likely that automobile owners here would be equally willing to be taxed for a similar purpose? For far apart as they are geographically, on this subject they must be in communion.

Though the automobile is said to be a road builder, it is equally a road destroyer and as a better road is required for comfortable automobile riding, the cost of making and maintaining is that much greater.

A member of the present city council, himself an automobile owner, says he tried to agitate this matter, but was met with the objection that it would drive owners of automobiles from the city. No doubt there would be some objectors, but the majority of fair minded owners of machines would be glad to contribute a reasonable amount in this manner for the maintenance of good roads, which would not only add to their physical comfort, but to the longevity of their cars. And as the heaviest wear of the roads today in many sections is from the automobiles, it would place the cost of maintaining the roads largely where it properly belongs, for it is hardly just that the whole public should be obliged to maintain streets and roads for the use of a class of vehicles, mostly, and almost entirely for pleasure purposes.

C. G. BURGOYNE IS SURPRISED BY NUMBER OF HIS FRIENDS.

PERSONS WHO HAVE ENJOYED HOSPITALITY OF COMMODORE
CALL AND PRESENT BEAUTI-FUL PAINTING.

As a means of showing their appreciation of the hospitality of Commodore C. G. Burgoyne, which all have enjoyed at various times, about 75 friends of his called on him Friday evening and presented him with a beautiful big oil painting of his garage.

The call and presentation were in the nature of a surprise to Mr. Burgoyne and the commodore was caught completely unawares. S. H. Gove went to the house early in the evening and asked permission from Mr. Burgoyne to have a friend from the north inspect the garage with the idea of building a similar one, and the commodore gladly accepted the invitation to show the two men through the building.

The three had scarcely entered the garage from the front when the 75 men sneaked through the rear gates and entered the building from the rear, bringing with them the big painting. A brief address was made by G. B. Seaman in presenting the picture. Mr. Burgoyne was so completely taken by surprise that he was unable to respond, and had the self invited guests they had been on his "mean end." The commodore invited the party to the house, where refreshments were served.

The painting is by Elmer and is a beautiful reproduction of a large commodore's automobile.

MARCUS H. ROGERS TELLS OF TRIP AROUND UNIVERSE.

ENTERTAINS MEMBERS OF PALMETTO CLUB AND FRIENDS WITH INTERESTING TALK ON ASTRONOMY.

Thursday night has been designated as gentlemen's day at the Palmetto club, the program being in charge of two club husbands, and a goodly number of gentlemen were in the audience.

Mrs. Graham Thompson, president of the club, opened the afternoon by introducing W. E. Blodgett, who arranged the musical part of the afternoon's program and thus added another favor to the many he has already shown the club. The first musical number, "Lustspiel," by Keler-Beler, was given by the Palmetto orchestra with their usual good taste and skill. They gave as an encore the "Parade of the Dolls," by Greenwald, which was rendered with grace and verve seldom attained by non-professionals.

The president then introduced Marcus H. Rogers, the noted Massachusetts editor and writer, referring to his successful career as editor of two well-known papers, one being the Berkshire County Eagle, a paper that has been published for 125 years.

That Mr. Rogers' address was well named, "An Excursion Around the Universe," was easily understood when he assured his hearers that each of them takes every year a trip of 600,000,000 miles around the universe, passage free, traveling at the almost unthinkable rate of 1,000,000 miles every fifteen hours, or eighteen miles every second.

To give any adequate synopsis of this interesting address is impossible, but the unanimous verdict of all who heard it was most laudatory and appreciative. The average person considers astronomy a very dry and intricate science, consisting mainly of almost incomprehensible distances and hazy theories as to the heavenly bodies, their size, substance and habits, but after hearing Mr. Rogers' story of the stars one felt that if all lecturers had his gift of clothing dry facts with glowing interest, astronomy would gain many new devotees.

The Copernican theory was first explained and its history outlined; then followed an interesting description of the spectroscope and its use, and of how it had opened up new fields for astronomers. A description of the sun and the eight known planets and their satellites was made as thrilling as any fairy tale, the apt illustrations and ready humor of the speaker keeping every one interested.

In closing, Mr. Rogers referred to the fact that his ancestor, John Rogers, was burned at the stake for alleged heresy; and he expressed the hope that he would not be "roasted" for his theories, which do not coincide with the popular idea of creation. He bases his theory upon the following passage from Heresch:—that there is "a consciousness and a will in the affinity of matter," which indicates the presence of the spirit and soul of the universe. The hearty approval of the new theory was indicated by the hearty congratulations extended to Mr. Rogers at the close of the meeting.

A rare musical concluded one of the most enjoyable afternoons of the club year. Miss Brooks, a talented young pianist, played Liszt's "Second Hungarian Rhapsody," with marvelous technique and musicianly feeling. She delighted her audience with her rendition of this exceedingly difficult composition and received an ovation. She gave as an encore a "Prelude," by Rachmaninoff, which was much enjoyed. Miss Brooks, who is a guest of Mrs. Armstrong, has studied with Stanley Olmstead, a pupil of Lecheitzky, and certainly has a most promising future as a concert pianist.

After various announcements, especially concerning the Kaffee Klatsch and Bookshow to be given at the Palmetto club on March 23, for the benefit of the public library, the program closed with music. Mrs. Bohannon sang "Song of a Heart," by Louise Tunison, and her rich voice was never more pleasing. Mr. Cornwall's skillful piano accompaniment and the cornet obligato by Mr. Trafford enhanced the beauty of the singing. As an encore Mrs. Bohannon sang "Little Boy Blue" with an appealing sweetness that touched every heart.

The hostesses of the day were Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Blodgett.

Probably He Wouldn't.

A country rector, coming up to preach at Oxford in his turn, complained to Dr. Routh, the venerable principal, that the remuneration was very inadequate, considering the traveling expenses and the labor necessary for the composition of the discourse.

"How much did they give you?" inquired Dr. Routh.
"Only £5," was the reply.
"Only £5?" repeated the doctor.
"Why, I would not have preached that sermon for fifty!"—Bric-a-Brac.

HAD FURNISHED ROOMS.

And He Had a Sign Out to Let the Neighbors Know.

In a little settlement on the outskirts of Chicago two houses stand out more boldly than the rest. These two are the domiciles of two Italians of means, who, although being very ignorant men, vied with each other for the social leadership of the locality.

One day a newcomer, in search of temporary lodgings, attracted by a conspicuous sign in the window of the first of these two houses, stepped to the door to make inquiry.

"I see you have furnished rooms here," he said to the swarthy man who answered his knock.

"Ya," rejoined the foreigner, pointing to the furnished room sign, "dere's da sign."

"Well, if you have one that's suitable I'd like to rent it for awhile."

"We no rent da rooms," was the bewildering declaration. "I got my family in here, and dey take up all da house."

"Don't rent any rooms? Why, then, have you that sign stuck in the window?"

"I'll tell you. Las' week dat fellow next door hang such a sign in his front window, an' we'n I see dat I put one of da same kind in my front window, just to show da people dat he ain't only man in dis place dat have his rooms furnished!"—Judge's Library.

Excellent Hunting
and Fishing

NEW SMYRNA
FLORIDA

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the state of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the state is raised on this land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

SEABREEZE and DAYTONA BEACH, two enterprising and progressive towns on the Halifax Peninsula, are geographically one although incorporated as separate municipalities. The towns parallel the peninsula north and south for a distance of from three and one-half to four miles, and extend east and west from the surging sea of the Atlantic Ocean to the Halifax River, the beautiful tide water stream that sets them apart from Daytona with which they have close communion by means of three bridges, as well as a half-hour ferry service.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth, air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straight-away record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rival.

The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobilizing some part of each day.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accommodation for all winter visitors in both towns.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated. The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenomenal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth. The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year-round occupancy.

L. J. CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid. WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief. The Atwood Pharmacy W. M. Hankins

SHAVING IS NOT FATAL

Barbers Nowadays Do Not Use Hammers and Cold Chisels.

In reply to a correspondent who says he yearns to have his flowing beard removed and yet lacks the Spartan firmness of the early martyrs to face the ordeal and makes a pathetic appeal for advice the alfalfa editor of the Emporia Gazette unfeeling remarks:

"The alfalfa editor can offer no advice or encouragement to such a trembling soul. It seems probable that he has worn his whiskers for many years. It is likely that he hasn't purchased a shave for a quarter of a century and therefore is ignorant of the improvements in the art tonsorial which have been achieved in recent years. It is no longer like going through a slaughter house to an open grave to be shaved by an expert barber. In fact, that operation has been so shorn of its terrors that many eminent citizens consider it a pleasure to visit the barber. It is no longer necessary to strap a patient down in the chair before shaving him; neither is it necessary to administer anaesthetics to his whiskers.

"The man whose only reason for wearing whiskers is the fact that he fears the barber shop will gain little sympathy. If he tries to explain that he cannot shave himself without suffering the agonies of the all-fired he will gain less. Such excuses might have had some force long ago, when barbers used hammers and cold chisels, but science has made giant strides in recent years, and the country is full of painless barbers, and a clean shave costs no anguish or inconvenience."

The Worst of All.

"Pa, is retribution the worst thing a person can have?"

"No. It isn't half as bad as the feeling one has after he has confessed and then discovered that he wouldn't have been found out if he had kept quiet."
—Chicago Record-Herald.

Small Corporations Made to Suffer For Doings of the Big Ones.

By SAMUEL UNTERMYER, Lawyer, New York.

ALL the criminal prosecutions of recent years, except that against the sugar company directors, have been directed against the members of pools and trade agreements for REGULATING PRICES OR PRODUCTION OR BOTH. The window glass, bathtub, fiber and manila and paper and pulp association cases are all of that character. In all of them the various concerns maintained their ownership and independence, except that in order to regulate prices and production they either sold through a common agency or reported to a "commission" and in some cases deposited money to assure the performance of their obligations.

IN NONE OF THE CASES HAD THEY GROWN RICH OR REaped EXCESSIVE PROFITS.

In the great industries there is generally ONE DOMINATING FACTOR that is so powerful as to be able to regulate prices and production without a line in writing or a money forfeit. There are many of these, all of whose understandings are reached by barely more than a word or a sign—they are known as "GENTLEMEN'S AGREEMENTS."

THEY ARE THE MOST EFFECTIVE OF ALL THE TEMPORARY PRICE ARRANGEMENTS, BECAUSE THESE AGREEMENTS ARE KEPT, AND THEY GENERALLY INCLUDE THE ENTIRE INDUSTRY. THEY ARE QUITE AS UNLAWFUL AND ANY ONE OF THEM IS FAR MORE DANGEROUS THAN THOSE OF ALL THE WEAK LITTLE FELLOWS COMBINED WHOM THE GOVERNMENT IS PURSUING WITH SUCH RELENTLESS ZEAL. DOES ONE HEAR THAT ANY OF THEM IS BEING PROSECUTED?

"Bits" of Money.

How much is six bits? Way back in the good old days there were no nickels and dimes. Small change had to be cut off a dollar as needed. They used to take a big silver dollar of our daddies and with an ax cut it into eight pieces, something like slicing a pie into pieces. Each piece was one bit. Six bits is 75 cents, and the term is still used for short in some parts of the United States. "Two bits," "four bits" and all the other bits are far more seldom-spoken nowadays. Your great-grandpa used to put it on a hickory log and with chisel and ax make small change. Uncle Sam had to put a stop to it. Some made ten bits out of $1.—New York Press.

Not to Be Hushed.

Bishop Littlejohn of Long Island, who died at the age of ninety, refused up to the day of his death to accept the assistance of a coadjutor bishop, declaring that he was perfectly able to perform his duties and care for his people. At a meeting of the clergy in the last year of his life Archbishop Bryan was requested to call the meeting to order. The archdeacon arose and requested the delegates to give attention, remarking:

"The bishop wishes to say a few words."
"A few words, sir; a few words!" interjected the bishop. "I would have it understood, sir, that the bishop will say as many words as he pleases."

ORMOND ON THE BEACH

ORMOND is 6 miles from Daytona, on the west of the Halifax River. The location is a genuine arming and sanitation; elevation is on a hill and ideal for winter homes. A fine bridge connects Ormond with Daytona Beach. Many fine homes are maintained on either side of the river, most of them surrounded by subtropical flora and shrubbery, besides thrifty orange and other citrus fruit trees.

Ormond has many attractions—excellent automobile, good fishing, safe boating, and many pleasant drives. At Ormond Beach is located the large hotel Ormond, and a lesser sister, the Ormond Inn. The Ormond occupies a position overlooking the Halifax, and the latter has its outlook the magnificent beach and the broad Atlantic.

Besides the broad, smooth beach there are many drives for carriages and automobiles around Ormond—drives toward through groves of golden oranges; drives through tropical forests to Spanish ruins; drives to the ancient Causeway built by slaves of planters of long ago, and drives to the plantations of noble settlers, whose places are replete with the interest of Southern fruits and flowers.

One of the most interesting of these plantations is at the headwaters of the Halifax and known as Moundgrove. It is one of the finest orange groves on the East Coast of Florida and is amid very pretty surroundings. Moundgrove is on the Daytona-Saint Augustine road.

POSTAL MYSTERY SOLVED

E. Burdette, Then Registry Clerk, Is Cleared.

REVEALS SECRET.

Burlington Hawkeye Humanitarian Postal Service Missionary—Miss Burdette, 33, Found
Up Old Bag.

has come to the Rev.
Burdette of Springfield, Mass.,
brother of Bob Burdette, the humorist after thirty years of silent suffering which he has rested under.

Mr. Burdette was a registry clerk thirty years ago in the postoffice at Peoria, Ill., a number of registered envelopes containing $3,500 disappeared.
No formal charge was made against the clerk, only the faith of the postmaster, General D. W. Magee, a war veteran, prevented his leaving the service with a stigma on his able to live down the suspicion, he left the ministry and devoted himself to missionary work in the far west.

Recently an old and battered mail
bag was taken from the San Francisco office for repairs. When the workmen cut open the bag in the workshop between the heavy leather flaps he found an old manila envelope containing the $3,500 that disappeared so mysteriously from Peoria thirty years ago.

Grow Up in the Town.
Burdette is a brother of the Rev.
Robert J. Burdette, now of Pasadena,
Cal., who as chief of the Burlington Hawkeye a decade or so ago won a reputation for himself among humorists, his brother, John W. Burdette, is a well known lawyer of Chicago.

When he was a boy in the early seventies Charles Burdette was employed as a registry clerk in the Peoria postoffice. His family lived in the little town and the brothers, including the forward famous humorist, grew up there. General Magee, who had won reputation as a commander of Illinois volunteers in the civil war, was postmaster at Peoria. He had known Burdette since boyhood and was a friend of the family.

The late John Comstock, a wealthy estate man, known to almost everybody in that section of Illinois, appeared one day at young Burdette's office in the postoffice. He said he wanted to send $3,500 in twelve registered letters to clients in Nebraska and Ohio.

"Now," he said to Burdette, "I want you to see me put the money in the envelopes."

"I don't want to see you put your finger in the envelopes," answered Burdette. "I am not supposed to know what your letters contain."

"But I want you to know," said Comstock. Comstock counted out the money and young Burdette placed it in twelve envelopes and passed the envelopes through the window to the postmaster. Burdette registered them in the ordinary way and gave Comstock a receipt.

Put Them in Mail Bag.
The twelve envelopes
were placed all twelve envelopes
in a large envelope of heavy paper.
The envelope was carefully placed at the bottom of a mail bag in which the morning's mail was to be sent off by the next train. On top of the envelope he placed the unregistered mail. On top of the unregistered mail he placed his own book. Then he locked and sealed the sack.

The railway mail clerk prepared to distribute the mail among the stations of the mail car he first returned the registry book and then opened the contents of the bag upon a distribution table. Thus the registered packages at the bottom of the mail would fall out on top of the pile of mail on the table. The mail clerk's first step was to compare the registered mail with the entries in the registry book, sign his name in the book showing he had received the registered mail and send the book back to the registry clerk.

The route agent found the entries in the registry book, but when he opened the mail bag he found no registered envelopes.

After thirty years, the old mail bag which has traveled hundreds of miles carrying Uncle Sam's mail, has given up its secret,
and Burdette's name is cleared.

PAYS TO BOOM ITSELF.

N. C., Settles Its Own Bills
For Advertising.

Asheville, N. C., claims to be the only city in the country authorized by law to spend money to advertise itself.
It is a common thing for the city to buy space in newspapers and to call the attention of manufacturers and the public generally to the advantages for industrial and tourist purposes.

As this has always been done by public spirited private citizens, Asheville pays the money for the city till. Perhaps the day will come when the city press agent will be one of the essentials of every city.

MICROSCOPIC MESSAGES.

How a Single Pigeon Might Carry a Whole Library.

For more than 2,000 years carrier
pigeons have been used to carry messages when no other means sufficed, and during the siege of Paris, when 363 birds were sent out from the doomed city, one of the birds performed the almost incredible feat of carrying to the outside world on one trip no less than 40,000 messages averaging twenty words each. This was 800,000 words, or the equivalent of five or six average novels.

This marvel was accomplished by means of microscopic photography, the messages being first printed with ordinary type and then photographed and rephotographed until they had been reduced several hundred diameters.
The final photographs were taken on films or pellicles of collodion, each of which, about two inches square, contained 50,000 words. A dozen of these films, rolled up in a quill, weighed but one twenty-eighth of an ounce. The messages could, of course, be read with a microscope without the necessity of rephotographing and enlarging.

Under favorable conditions and for comparatively short distances pigeons have carried as much as three-quarters of an ounce. Using the photo reduction method, it would therefore be possible for a single bird to carry messages equal in words to no fewer than 120 ordinary volumes.—Harper's Weekly.

Whistler's White Lock.

As long as the name of James Mc-Neill Whistler lives among those who saw him it will recall the famous white lock which stood out so conspicuously from the mass of his black hair. It was, as he used to say himself, "well placed" and was always treated from the harmonious point of view to develop its greatest effect in his appearance. One day when Dorothy Menpes, daughter of the well known English artist Mortimer Menpes, was a baby and was asleep on her pillow Whistler went to see her. A white feather had by chance settled on her head and lay in a spot exactly corresponding with the white lock on his own head.
"That child is going to develop into something great," he exclaimed, "for, see, she begins with a feather, just like me!"

LIGHTEN THE CHAIN.

Is it not a thing divine to have a smile, which, none know how,
has the wonderful and unfailing power to lighten the weight of that enormous chain which all the living in common drag behind them?—
Victor Hugo.

Helping Her Out.

The Smythes attempted the unwise experiment of trying to give a fashionable dinner party with an inexperienced maid, whose mistress had coached and coached her until, as poor Ellen said afterward, her mind was "all in a tangle." During the middle of the dinner Ellen appeared in the dining room with a look of perplexity
on her face and said:
"Say, ma'am, I can't remember whether you want them croquetry things next or that salad, and I'm shy one salad plate, and I don't think there's goin' to be enough salad to go round anyway, so hadn't we better cut that out altogether?"—Washington Star.

Careful About His Vote.

Often a man's reasons for giving or withholding his vote are subtle. Once a country squire solicited the support of a notorious poacher whom he had previously sent to jail. The man declined to give it.
"But," urged the magistrate candidate, "that little poaching affair was years ago. You should let bygones be bygones."
"It wasn't for locking me up," replied the man. "It's the reason why you did it that puts me against you."
"What was the reason?"
"Why, you said I had stolen a rabbit, and it was a hare, and the man who don't know the difference ain't fit for a member o' parliament."—London Chronicle.

Dr. Kelle is a prominent physician and specialist of Brooklyn, N. Y., and can get away from his practice for but a limited time. He has been as far south as Georgia on several former trips but this is his first visit to Daytona.

Ready Wit.

The wit of the late Dr. Francis A. Harris was always ready. It came like a flash, as when being told that a Chinaman was about to be appointed on the police force he remarked, "the Asiatic collarer," and passed on.

At a banquet given to Charles Dickens, the younger, the chairman, inadvertently talking backward, referred to the guest as one not only honored for himself, but because of his father. The younger Dickens in response dryly observed that he was glad to see that critical discrimination had not been lost in hospitality, and Dr. Harris saved the situation by rising and proposing a toast "to Charles the second, who never lost his head."—Boston Transcript.
